Needle was created by a team of some of the most experienced minds in the blockchain space. They have spent the last 3 years working on the technical side of blockchain with the mission of building a peer-to-peer network where transactions are done as fast as possible and fees are minimal. At Needle, we've made major improvements to the NEM Blockchain, in some cases making modifications to the code base from which the NEM blockchain was created. The key improvements that we've made to the NEM Blockchain are: More than 40% faster transaction times, currently we can do up to 100,000 transactions per second. Needle is a community blockchain with an active user base of more than 40,000 people and the community is constantly updating the blockchain, the architecture and how it's utilized. The community is constantly expanding and growing, showing continued growth. The platform is free and open source. NEM Core The NEM Foundation have worked on the NEM Blockchain since 2013, and have released regular upgrades that improve the NEM Blockchain's performance and ability to support more applications. The latest major upgrade of the NEM Blockchain is version 3.0, which was launched in early 2018. The release is available on the website, along with the core code. The new NEM Blockchain is still in a Proof of Concept stage, and as such is still evolving and changing. The NEM Platform The NEM Platform was launched in 2016, and is a multi-platform blockchain development framework that is compatible with all major blockchains. The NEM Platform was designed to support the development of complex solutions that were previously limited to only one blockchain. The NEM blockchain has been designed with one feature in mind: simplicity. Needle launched the NEM Blockchain to provide a solution that is simple, safe and 2d92ce491b
