I need a Dsp that either sound like a cheaper version of a real Dsp-100 or is capable of mimicking it. It would be nice if u can also send me a video of someone actually using it. I need a nice looking admin or admin management system with a little graphics to easily manage a small website and small employee workforce. After spending a few hours with the software and trying a few other programs, I've decided to use Webmin. It's a free, opensource multi-protocol HTTP and SSH administration web interface. The cPanel version is php driven but webmin is Perl based. It looks like it will be easy to use and set up. I need to test it on my server first, but it could be a good idea to have a free trial before spending the money on it.
