Latest Discussion MirageBot is a highly customizable Battle.net chat bot capable of loading multiple connections through an easy to use main window. These profiles can have a multitude of settings enabled which make them unique.Give MirageBot a try to fully assess its capabililties! Download the MirageBot zip file. Make a folder where MirageBot can be stored, such as C:\MirageBot. Quit or disable Diablo 3. At the DOS prompt, change to the C:\MirageBot folder where you just downloaded MirageBot. Run the RunInstaller.exe as an administrator. Choose the first option to install Battle.net. Now choose the 1st option under the Battle.net installation location to update the game to the live version. Once installation is completed, Diablo 3 should now be accessible. Configuring MirageBot Once Diablo 3 is loaded up, you can open the quick start. Now you can either create a new profile or edit your existing one. Click on the Configure Link, then click on the Load a profile link. Click on the "Load" link, and the following will appear in the bottom left portion of the screen. You can either choose your own profile or create a new profile. Editing Profile Settings The default settings are good for most games. Allow both players to see your private messages: Create a profile for each person you play with. This will allow you to still be able to see each other's character information and messages in your chat window. Enable the new player buff: Allows you to ensure that your new players are fully leveled up with the latest content. Enable host targeting: Strictly for LAN games, host targeting allows you
