Offers a wide range of icons for design applications and web services. All icons are scalable and can be resized using any image editor. Available in PNG, GIF, ICO and BMP formats, icons are fully customizable (e.g. transparent backgrounds, colored, shadowed, and graded). I'm going to assume that you are already familiar with drawing with vector graphics and by now you should be good at using vector editors like Illustrator and Inkscape. However, these free and open-source editors don't always provide a complete set of vector tools for those who are just getting started with it, so you might end up using tools like Corel Draw or Adobe Illustrator. In this tutorial you will learn how to quickly and easily create your first vector icon.

Step 1: Start a New Project in Inkscape Start the free and open-source vector drawing application Inkscape. Select File > New and then click on the Select File Type icon to open the default options. Scroll down and select Vector Graphic from the main section on the left side of the window and click on Next.

Step 2: Name the Icon Enter a unique name for the icon in the "File name" field. Then choose a project directory where you will store your new files and click Next.

Step 3: Change the Icon Size Most icons are usually created in the standard 32×32 or 24×24 dimensions. However, in this tutorial we will create a 24×24 vector icon that is a great size for logos and icon sets. To change the icon size click on the icon in the main Inkscape window and use the Scale/Move tool to set the size to 24 pixels. In the first example below I used 2 pixels in both the horizontal and vertical directions to create a square icon that is 24×24 pixels.

Step 4: Move the Selected Path If you make any edits to the path, Inkscape will move it to the location you selected. This might be useful if you want to apply the same edits to a number of icons and don't want to spend a lot of time positioning all of them properly.

Step 5: Create a Simple Shape The first and most important step when designing a vector icon is to create a rectangle or square shape. Start by clicking on the Shape tool (in the main toolbar) and drag the mouse to draw a rectangle. You can use the default settings in the tool options, or you
