The sleep science behind Minnetonka beds is unsurpassed, because we built our understanding around the fundamental needs of human sleep. Our Tru-Tone™ engineered spring system is responsive, with a mixture of Helix and Bend alone. Beds enjoy a longer, more relaxing sleep because we avoid the "fatigue spring" that gives rise to mattress sagging. We've expanded our original Research and Development team's award-winning design. The original perception was that people bought beds for different reasons and based on the need for different types of support. In an age where consumers have greater choice and desire, we've made sure our beds offer a range of different support layers, including Firm, Plush, and High-Density Foam for the ultimate in comfort. Our Direct Replacement Replicas provide the same high quality, engineering excellence as our originals.
