The present invention generally relates to semiconductor technology, and more particularly to a method of forming a semiconductor structure. In the manufacture of semiconductor devices, the quality and reliability of the semiconductor devices are governed by the quality of the manufacture of the devices themselves. One common semiconductor fabrication process involves the formation of dielectric layers including insulation layers and passivation layers between semiconductor devices. In a typical process of forming a semiconductor device, a semiconductor wafer substrate is processed in a deposition chamber that contains a wafer substrate. To form a semiconductor device on the wafer substrate, one or more chemical vapor
