Blog When I was growing up, my mom used to buy “craft” things at the dollar store. The dollar store always was at the end of the block when my siblings and I rode by it. It used to be the “one stop shop” when it was going out of business for mom to get the essentials for a handmade craft project. I used to be there too. Of course I went to the “craft” store when I was ready to “make” something. Well, my mom never got those dollar store craft projects made. In fact, the dollar store only made some of those projects. So what do mom and the craft store have in common? They couldn’t pass up those dollar store craft projects because they were “easy.” In my mom’s defense, it took me years to get to the “create” part of crafting. But I can admit that “craft” wasn’t my first choice when I was growing up. Today’s topic is: Your First Craft Project. This is not your mom’s homemade monogram in a can. This is not your work card. This is not your personalized place mats. This is for those who don’t want to create something complicated and yet still need to be in the “mom” camp for this particular project. It’s simple. It’s quick. It’s easy. And it doesn’t require anything but your own time and talents to make it happen. It is a great first craft project, that you can have in your possession within a week. Here’s what you’ll need: a package of three (3) little present bags (I used three of my free gift packaging) a file folder (I used a 6”x 3e33713323
