"International Version" of its Xiaomi Redmi Note 7 smartphone, which will be sold in France and Germany in August, for the same price as the version sold in India. The variant comes with support for the LTE band 72 (2.5GHz) for faster data speeds. Priced at EUR 149 (approximately Rs 13,445), the "International Version" is available in Rose Gold, Black, and Grey colours. There is no information about availability or availability in other markets. The device was launched in India in April for Rs 13,999. It comes with a 5.99-inch full HD+ display with a resolution of 1080x2280 pixels and it is powered by an octa-core Qualcomm Snapdragon 660 SoC. The device comes with 3GB of RAM and 32GB of inbuilt storage that can be expanded via microSD card. Other features of the smartphone include a 13MP + 5MP dual camera setup at the rear and a 5MP selfie camera. The smartphone runs on the latest Android 8.1 Oreo-based MIUI 10 OS and supports dual-SIM card slots. New Republic: April 17, 2019 Samsung has added a 15W wireless charger to its Galaxy A-series lineup of smartphones. The pad will be available on its website starting this week, and in select Samsung retailers in Europe and Asia from the 26th. The charger supports Quick Charge 3.0 with a maximum power output of 15W and a charging rate of 0.6A. New Republic: April 16, 2019 Nokia today announced the Nokia 9 PureView, a new premium smartphone. The Keymacro is a simple and lightweight keyboard macro recorder designed for Windows OS. Its nice features include the recording of keystroke/sequence of commands, download of keyboard recording to a file, and backup of the keyboard recording. Keymacro offers the user the choice between three different recording modes, which are "Window", "Button" and "Default". In the "Window" mode, the user can record the keys pressed on the Windows keyboard, in the "Button" mode, the user can record the commands for buttons on the Windows keyboard, and in the "Default" mode, the user can record the behavior of the "Default" keys. Keymacro runs quietly in the system tray. When there are no macros waiting to be recorded, the status icon is green with "0". When the macros are available to be recorded, the status icon is blue with "1". You can also use the "List all macros" button in the main interface to list all macros available. There is a history box to keep a track of the macros, as well as a "Retrieve history" button to recover a macro from the history. Newest Version : 4.5.2 Antivirus, Firewall, Anti malware, rootkits, and Any other applications you would want.
