By Natalia Castro Pat McAfee, the 2012 Libertarian Party nominee for president, has committed to running again in 2016. McAfee would become the first to challenge Donald Trump on the Libertarian Party ticket. Pat McAfee says, "Today, the 2016 election is a three-way race between Donald Trump, Hillary Clinton and Gary Johnson or Jill Stein. I predict a Johnson or Stein ticket will be the only third party on the ballot in every state of the union." Johnson is the only candidate to have raised an impressive $40 million dollars thus far. He has the largest grassroots campaign for any candidate in the history of presidential campaigns. Pat McAfee said, "When I wrote my manifesto, I said that if it wasn't for the inspiration of Ron Paul, I would not have run. I truly believe Ron Paul inspired me to run and to continue to speak truth to power. And I believe that Gary Johnson will inspire the nation as the only candidate that can stop Clinton and Trump." If Johnson does not win, McAfee said, "Gary Johnson's candidacy will lead to the only true conservative to be nominated for president in 40 years." Even if the Libertarian Party nominee were conservative, they would still be considered a viable third party. The Libertarian Party has only one point of divergence from the major parties in all of the power metrics on show this campaign, and that is in the area of personal freedom. The remaining points of divergence are largely rhetorical. Pat McAfee is a former broadcast journalist who is also the founder of the Campaign for Liberty. His views on foreign policy and personal freedom are informed by his military service and his stance of not paying for government with other people's money. McAfee said, "At a time when Obama is expanding executive power, Johnson, as commander in chief, would be a giant step in restoring the balance of power." McAfee also said, "Johnson has the best chance to create a freedom zone in the Middle East and stabilize the zone. We have to start believing in solutions in order to achieve them." McAfee also said, "Hillary and Trump don't inspire me. Johnson does." Unfortunately, Pat McAfee is wrong. In this election, it's all about the numbers. According to Reuters, Gary Johnson has not had a favorable rating or an unfavorable rating

Q: How can I discover and resolve Python bug? I am using Eclipse with PyDev 0.20. How can I discover and resolve Python bug? A: After your post it looks like you're using Eclipse for Python. As opposed to IDEs that include an interpreter with the IDE, Eclipse has a separate Python interpreter that you can use to run scripts and view the state of various objects as they execute. When there is a bug in the Python interpreter, you won't be able to resolve it. The errors will be from the Python interpreter, and the Python interpreter does not include all of the tools to debug the issues. If you want to learn more about how Eclipse for Python integrates into Eclipse itself, take a look at the documentation. A: To further understanding, let me show how one can use eclipse to debug your python code: Select from the menu Run->Run External Application... Then select Run 'Eclipse' Enter the path of your Python IDE, I assume you have already configured your Python interpreter to the path of your Python IDE, and for windows it would be like this: C:\Python26\eclipse\plugins\org.python.pydev_2.6.0.201202011830\pysrc And fill the arguments. If the path to your python IDE is not correct, you may get an error message as below: Error occurred during initialization of VM Could not find Python.home property in java.library.path Now, we have the IDE running successfully in Eclipse. You can read the code in your editor of choice, but the key point here is that you can debug your python codes: Debug your python code in eclipse Make sure you select Debug your code, not run it! This is the key to being able to debug your python code in eclipse. (The image above is from the eclipse website. It is not mine. All credits go to the eclipse developer site) A: Check the eclipse plugin "PyDev" at Or read
