There are two versions of Adobe Photoshop: the professional version which includes retouching tools, video editing and 3D software, as well as an extensive library of templates, and a consumer version which is geared towards a different audience. Adobe Photoshop is the flagship product in the company's Digital Photography Suite, consisting of Adobe Photoshop Elements and Adobe Photoshop. Adobe Photoshop Elements is the entry-level version of the suite, geared towards hobbyist and semi-pro photographers looking for a basic graphics editor. Adobe Photoshop is the equivalent of Corel Photo-Paint on Windows. The download link for Adobe Photoshop on the Microsoft Store is misnamed as the 32-bit version, whereas the 64-bit version is actually the correct download link. The reason for this is that the Microsoft Store does not consider the 64-bit version a 32-bit application and thus incorrectly tells downloaders that they need to download the 32-bit version, which then leads to accidental downloading and installation of the 32-bit version on a 64-bit operating system, with the result that 64-bit applications start to show as being of the 32-bit variety. To prevent this problem from happening, the 64-bit version should be listed as the download link for Adobe Photoshop on the Microsoft Store. The current version of Adobe Photoshop is 19.1.0.1091 for Mac and Version 19.1.0.1294 for Windows. Because of the limited update distribution, both the Mac and Windows versions are impacted by the same issues. Adobe Photoshop 19.0.0.1297 and its 64-bit version 19.0.0.1299 are not available for download from the Microsoft Store due to insufficient validation from Adobe. Official repositories for installing Adobe Photoshop on macOS and Windows: Official Linux repositories for Adobe Photoshop are not available. Visit Community support forums to get the most up-to-date versions of Adobe Photoshop. How to install Adobe Photoshop and Adobe Photoshop Elements Installing Adobe Photoshop as a standalone program is straightforward. In order to install the program, you need to run the installer program. If you have Adobe Photoshop or Adobe Photoshop Elements installed on your computer, you need to uninstall it first before running the installer. Windows If you are running Windows 7 or older, the 32-bit version of Adobe Photoshop will work out of the box, but you will need to download the 64-bit version otherwise. a681f4349e

Brussels, the 9th and 10th December 2015 Events Climate in the times of economic crisis When the world is struggling to contain the damage of the 'greatest climate shock ever', what measures can be taken to avoid the worst impact and resume an economic growth cycle? What role can the European Commission play in this? On the 9th and 10th December 2015, a group of 24 top level climate policy decision makers will meet in Brussels. They will be involved in the EU-level discussions regarding the Fourth Assessment Report (AR4) of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) and the 2nd European Environment & Energy Decision (EEED2) regarding the transposition of the Paris Climate Agreement. On the other hand, they will participate to the negotiations on the Multiannual Finance Framework (MFF) of the European Union and of the Financial Framework, to have a better perspective on the budget for the period from 2020 to 2024. As the EU is facing an economic crisis, a collaboration with the national authorities on climate policies is crucial to safeguard an adequate environment policy (as well as agricultural, energy and transport policies) that keeps us on the right track when our economies are hurting. A couple of times per year, a group of 24 top level climate policy decision makers meet in Brussels to discuss the climate policy agenda of the Commission, European Parliament and Council during a national holiday or of a special event. They will exchange experiences and challenges that they face in the daily work of the European Union, during the day of 9 December and 10 December 2015 in Brussels. They will focus on the Fourth Assessment Report (AR4) and the policy tools that will need to be available to the EU to maintain the momentum towards a global agreement on climate change in the year 2020. They will also discuss how to adjust the budget to accommodate this ambition and how to ensure that the financial framework for the period 2020 to 2027 fulfils the commitments made in Paris. The theme of Climate in the times of economic crisis is not a fairy story. Since the IPCC report in October, the situation has become even more serious. Deeper cuts to both world economies and carbon emissions are still needed. As the last round of negotiations to the global agreement on climate change (COP21) in Paris will take place in December 2015, it is crucial to reinforce and strengthen our efforts to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and limit climate change, so as to protect
