A straightforward layout that focuses entirely on enriching one's lexicon. Usually, language and vocabulary learning apps will carry a more consistent package, which may or may not be perceived as complex by average users. This is surely not the case with this program, which will make use of its simplicity to concentrate one's attention to the main subject. Following a hourly interval (which, unfortunately cannot be altered), the app will prompt users with new words, explained in three distinct ways and translated into ten different languages. Although the source for the dictionary isn't very clear, users do get the chance to submit corrections to the translations, with a dedicated hyperlink. If bored with certain words, try the build-in quiz for a more interactive learning process. One aspect that could be considered bothersome is the fact that the app will not load new words automatically, and unless people will hit the "Refresh" button, the new content will fail to appear. This isn't such a big deal-breaker, but could put-off more "pretentious" users. For those who the passive lexicon learning process isn't enough, the app also offers a vocabulary quiz, available into several languages. This will test users' translation capabilities, with multiple choice answers for the selected word/language combo. Thoughtful app that will allow one to learn new words in various languages, without leaving aside any personal activities. Key Features: Intuitive layout and interface that will allow users to learn new words very quickly. Dictionary with three different methods for explanations. Translation quiz with up to twenty possible answers for each question. Handwritten and audio pronunciation for the selected words. To begin with, you will need to pay $0.99 for a one-time-free to start using the app. If you're planning to keep using it, a price of $2.99 would get you the latest update. In either case, that's certainly a wise investment, given the amount of time and energy put into it. For people who are yet to use the app, the current trial version will give them a taste of what to expect. There's a fair chance they'll find this app more than adequate for their needs. If that's the case, they can use it as much as they wish for $2.99. The app is available for the iPhone, iPad, and Mac computers, and it
