ASP.NET Remoting Server App. Added support for working with JavaScript. All changes have been done in Framework. Description: ASP.NET Framework Client App. Added possibility to open URLs in links by double clicking them. Added support for working with JavaScript. Description: The plugin is designed to make it easier to integrate a third-party C# component into the ASP.NET Forms Authentication system. When an.aspx page is rendered, the framework queries the Forms Authentication module to determine if the current user is authorized to access the page. If the user is authorized, the framework retrieves the C# component and renders a control. The framework is designed to simplify the task of creating controls to be rendered within the Forms Authentication system. If the class implements the FormsAuthentication class, the framework automatically registers the control with the Forms

Authentication module. If the class implements the FormsAuthenticationTicket class, the framework registers the control with the Forms Authentication module based on the type of the created Form Authentication ticket. If the class is not based on the Forms Authentication module, the framework automatically registers the control with the Forms Authentication module. Note: Some functionality is limited when the client app is running in an ASP.NET Web Application Project. Description: An Authentication sample for using Authentication and FormsAuthentication. Added a PersistFormAuthenticationControl to persist the Form Authentication data. Added an example of FormsAuthentication. Added a PersistFormAuthenticationControl to persist the Form Authentication data. Description: An Authentication sample for using Authentication and FormsAuthentication. Added a PersistFormAuthenticationControl to persist the Form Authentication data. Description: An Authentication sample for using Authentication and FormsAuthentication. Added a PersistFormAuthenticationControl to persist the Form Authentication data. What's New In MiniBrowser?

A simple but powerful web browser for Windows. The program provides a minimalist user interface, but it can replace any other web browser. This is a real web browser, not a dummy like Internet Explorer. You can define, view, download and manage your favorites. Use it to access Internet forums and search engines. You can organize your favorites, bookmark important pages and read them in the background. You can open pages in a new tab. With the context menu you can cut, copy, paste, "select all", drag and drop or undo web page changes. You can use a hotkey to close a tab. Drag a tab to any side of the window to make it one of the side bar. You can make the tool bar separate from the browser window or show it along with the window. If you want to restore the default window settings, click the "MiniBrowser" button.

ADVANCED.UI.HTML is a little HTML editing program that you can use to quickly style Web pages. It includes many useful features such as a toolbar with buttons for quickly navigating through the HTML code, a find and replace tool for easily changing text and an outline that can be switched on or off. What makes ADVANCED.UI.HTML different from a similar program is that it is designed to be used in conjunction with a website builder. You can easily place a button on the site builder toolbar and send your changes directly to the HTML editor. Also, you can open HTML documents created by other site builders and find all the elements, style them and update the text. This website builder has a simple to use user interface. It is not full of unnecessary features and it is easy to navigate. You just need to place your cursor on the area where you want to edit and press the Enter key to open a menu with all the available options. There is a separate menu for all the available web browsers, so you can easily switch to them and start editing. You can also add a short code to a text area to bring up some predefined formatting options. If you want to create a new web browser, you can quickly insert one using the site builder, without having to remember which hotkey to use. Another interesting feature is the ability to copy and paste elements from the HTML editor and paste them into the site builder. You can drag-and-drop images and other elements from your web browser to the site builder and simply upload them.

In case you need to move an element to another web browser or other page, you can use the scrollbar on the right side. You can also select the elements with your mouse or switch to another web browser to edit them in their native environment. Adobe Dreamweaver SiteSync Extension is an extension that enables you to synchronize web pages. This tool is simple, free and easy to use. It is a way to share design and layout decisions between your web sites. The program allows you
