Paint Shop Pro 9 is a discontinued image editing and digital imaging application developed and distributed by Adobe Systems for macOS. After a long wait and lots of online discussions, a new version of PaintShop Pro has been released and is available to download from the Adobe website. The latest release is version 1.8 and comes with this interesting comment: In the past 18 months, the company has received more than 3 million downloads of the Windows version of its PhotoShop digital image-manipulation software. As of March 2007, more than 45 million people have used the popular graphics program. Some people are reporting that they are getting a 403 error message when trying to access the Adobe site, but that doesn't seem to be the case for me. Some users are reporting that it is taking a long time to download the latest version, while some other are reporting that it's working well. If you're planning to buy the software, head over to the Adobe download site, click on the type of the software you'd like to download and, once you've chosen, use the "Download" link to get it downloaded to your computer.
