with attachments in a certain time after "from" field I want to send emails with attachments, from a gmail account. I have a cron job that sends emails with attachments, however, I would like to add a few lines to the script in order to add a timestamp to the message. How could I add something like this? My cron task looks like this: /usr/bin/php -q /var/www/site/wp-content/themes/comet/cron.php I would like to add this: $send_date = date("Y-m-d H:i:s"); $send_id = date("Y-m-d H:i:s"); I know that date() has a time stamp functionality and this is the reason why I added it. However, I am not sure how I could add it in the $send_date and $send_id variables to be sent with the email. A: Try adding $send_date = date("Y-m-d H:i:s", time()); before the $send_id = date("Y-m-d H:i:s");. Example: $send_date = date("Y-m-d H:i:s", time()); $send_id = date("Y-m-d H:i:s"); A: You can simply add an apostrophe to your PHP variable to make it an string, as $send_date = date("Y-m-d H:i:s"); would be the same as $send_date = 'date("Y-m-d H:i:s")'; Tunneling is usually used to refer to the method of digging through land to form an underground passage. It is done by digging in a trench and then using a tunnel boring machine (TBM) to push a
