Whenever I click on that keyword it should be highlighted in a different color. Here is a sample of how it is: This is my JS: `$(".trash").click(function() { $(this).removeClass("trash"); $(this).addClass("vacuum"); }); $(".vacuum").click(function() { $(this).removeClass("vacuum"); $(this).addClass("trash"); });` And this is my HTML: `.trash { background-color: #e95d1d; } .vacuum { background-color: #8ddcf4; }` I am using some kind of CSS to change the color. It is working but I want to make it a little bit more perfect. I am a bit of a noob in JS and I am having a hard time figuring it out. How can I add a background-color property or something similar? A: `$(".trash").click(function() { $(this).toggleClass("trash vacuum"); }); $(".vacuum").click(function() { $(this).toggleClass("vacuum trash"); });` Hepatitis C
