The nation's largest police union claims the O-T-E-N Obama administration is sending members of a SWAT team to raid a bank in North Carolina because they have not followed the U.S. Attorney's guidelines, but they say no one's federal charges have been filed yet in this case. On Friday, the Fraternal Order of Police's president said agents from the U.S. Attorney's office for the Western District of North Carolina went to a Wachovia bank branch in Salisbury to arrest a man but the man was not arrested because he was not in the bank. "If the whole thing is a clean shoot, why were they called? Why did an entire task force have to be put in the area?" Chuck Canterbury asked. "Well, because (they were) called by the people of North Carolina," John White, the other FOP president, responded. "That's what you get when the people call us to do their jobs for them." The FOP is the country's largest police union with over 900,000 members. It is headquartered in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, and it had more than $120 million in financial assets last year. Last month, the FOP wrote the Obama administration to tell the Department of Justice how they felt about using a federal SWAT team to execute a search warrant in a small farming community near Salisbury. The agency's guidelines are meant to ensure the safety of federal agents and civilians but the FOP argues the Obama administration is ignoring this procedure. "The FOP's members are not simply police officers; they are dedicated public servants who have dedicated themselves to the preservation of life, health, property and the pursuit of justice," White said. "The FOP works tirelessly to protect the rights and lives of the American public, but this administration seems to be ignoring our expertise." The FOP also pointed out this is the first time since the 1950's that the federal government has used a SWAT team to raid a financial institution. White said the FOP will file a lawsuit against the U.S. Attorney's office if no charges are filed in the bank robbery case. "The FOP has resources to do this. We have professionals who specialize in litigation. In the meantime, we will continue to work with the Governor and the people of North Carolina to put an end to what we believe is a dangerous new trend in policing," he said. The FOP bases its beliefs

A common form of traffic data is TCP/IP traffic data (or "TCP/IP" traffic data) and a common type of traffic data used in teleconferencing is the well known Internet Protocol (IP) traffic data (or "IP" traffic data). A problem with using traffic data is that a device which is receiving the traffic data may be as far away from the source of the traffic data as they would like to be whilst still receiving the traffic data. One solution to this is to provide a highly redundant network with redundant systems. This is very expensive and, in practice, it is hard to achieve, for example, where a connection is made across the Internet between a first network and a second network.Panthers finalizing contract extension for center Derek Smith CHARLOTTE -- It's widely known that in this town, money can't buy happiness. And although former Carolina Panthers running back DeAngelo Williams is the biggest name to leave the organization this offseason, contract extension talks are in the final stages between center Derek Smith and the team. On Friday, NFL Network reported that Smith and the team have agreed on a multiyear extension. The deal is reportedly worth $20.3 million and runs through 2017, according to the report. Smith signed an eight-year, $46 million deal with the team in 2013 and has already made $15.6
