There are no records of his birth or death dates or even that he was ever baptized.<sup>1</sup> He went to school from Sézébe Otsáði was the last of the ancient Icelandic literary schools. He was educated in the Berufsschule of Altona. His first important work, Táttur GrÁigum (Plays, 1845) is full of the happiest and most genuine of Icelandic humour. Sáttmál, an Icelandic play, was written in 1869 and published in 1873. It was translated into English in 1876 (as A Night at an Inn) by Harry Kierulf, and was played with great effect at a variety of patriotic meetings in the United States. Ernest Seawell Beattie, who was born in Canada in 1885, became a Swedish citizen and went to school there before settling in Iceland in 1917. He settled there permanently in 1935, and became a representative of the Swedish colony in Iceland. He was a friend and collaborator of Bjarni G. Samuelson, and is the author of a number of Icelandic folktales and öldættir (ballads), and also wrote the Icelandic history of literature, 1350-1914, containing much valuable information about the development of Icelandic literature. Jóhann Sólmundsson (1872-1941), of Dublin, was a poet, composer, and folklorist. Although originally trained as a playwright, he settled down as a farmer at Svólvær, Hvalfjörður, Iceland, where he became a great admirer of old Icelandic literature and folklore, and also began to edit the tales of Snorri Sturlus

Possible Duplicate: best way to store BLOB in SQL Server Im fairly new to ASP.NET and am trying to create a data access layer. I have a datatable that is returned from the database, is there a way that I can store this data in to the database without loading it into the memory of the application. I am using an Oracle database for the backend. I also apologize if this has been asked before, I know theres loads of data there. A: There is no need to store the data at all into the database. All you need to do is to handle it in ASP.NET as any other object (in your case a DataTable). If you only want to save the data and nothing else, you simply serialize the DataTable as XML or JSON and write it to the database. 1. I interviewed students as they walked by. Only two were answering questions and one of them did not know who would run for president. I was told it would be the one who is the closest to the president. The Student's Caucus: After scoping out the campus prior to the February 9th meeting, I visited the Student's Caucus at St. Lawrence Hall during the lunch hour on February 9th and they were running full speed ahead with their campaign. I overheard a discussion about who would run for president and they were told that who ever doesn't run is the president. I was invited to a student forum on Friday February 11th. They took questions about what I had written in my weekly column, what is most important to them, what would the next president do for students. Students gave many ideas about everything from alcohol policy to the upcoming "College of Fine Arts Fair." They also mentioned how a previous president had cut some funding for campus activities. "This has been the best presidential campaign I have ever participated in," said a student. "It has a ground-level feel." The Electioneering: I had a postcard sent to Mr. Plowjoy with a letter and some stickers. My roommate has two more. We have put stickers on our doors. I'm encouraging all students to get out and vote. I've made an S.O.S. to all students
