Q: jquery: after show/hide, live() causes the script to freeze I have the following simple test: About Contact About Contact $('.test').hide(); $('.test').live('click', function() { $(this).hide(); $('.container').hide(); }); If i click on the link, the script "freezes" on the last line $(this).hide(); The last line hides the element (correct behaviour), but i need to run before that line. If i try this: $('.container').hide(); $(this).hide(); it does not work, and i don't understand why. I'm also trying with every(), but i don't have any success. I did this on jsFiddle, with 2 different browsers (one on iPad): on iPad, i see in the console that there is no call of the hide(); method, so i have the same behaviour in both browsers. A: You're not actually telling the browser to queue the $('.test').hide() up, so as long as the rest of your code is running the hide is just going to run. To get it to queue up, use $('.test').fadeIn() instead of hide() O Exército australiano não se deu ao trabalho de divulgar algumas das realizações com o Arianespace e o foguete Ariane 5 LVA-SPM durante a missão OSS (Operação Sombra do Sudoeste), realizada na noite de 30 de abril.
