Descargar Dragonball Z Hentai KamehasutraQ: Accessing SESSION Variables from Multilingual Joomla 2.5.27 We have created an e-commerce web site with a multilingual CMS. The website is working well and now we are extending the possibilities to the user by creating a Custom Module which should be listed in the menu. This Custom Module needs to access the current user, get his username and store it in a session variable. I've managed to create the module and activate the plugin in the Joomla Administrator. When I load my site the user is not listed anymore and the module is showing up on every page. This can't be right. I've tried to get a global POST and GET variable from the session, which work fine in the normal pages but doesn't seem to work in this case. How do I make this work? I have already checked the database and checked the Joomla Session variables and they are all OK. Here is my code: install file:

add_column('jos_menu_alias', 'alias', $db->datatype_string(20)); $db->add_column('jos_menu_slug', 'slug', $db->datatype_string(15)); $db->add_column('jos_menu_alias_table', 'menu_alias_id', $db->intval(5)); } function setupAuthorization() { $groups = JFactory::getUser()->getAuthorizedGroups(); $user = JFactory::getUser(); if (isset($user->groups) && is_array($user->groups)) { $groups = $user->groups;
