TRANSITION TYPES We all know that there are five basic states of matter: solid, liquid, gas, plasma, and the fifth state of matter, which is not really understood by us is space. Some time ago, the only ways to transition between these states of matter were through touch (i.e., solid melts to liquid, solid forms into gas, and so on). Digital transitions, however, have taken the world by storm, and are now a key part of the media industry. On one hand, when we talk about digital transitions, we are talking about effects that can be applied using Photoshop. On the other hand, we are also talking about motion. Technically, a transition is any motion, such as that of Rhodobacter capsulatus and its photobioreactor with polyphenylene films containing a visible-light-activatable ruthenium-bacteriochlorophyll complex as co-photosensitizer. Rhodobacter capsulatus cells were immobilized in alginate biofilms, a hydrogel biopolymer, which were used to photocatalytically degrade phenol. The immobilized cells were incubated in a photobioreactor made of polyphenylene films (PPF) with a light-harvesting ruthenium-bacteriochlorophyll complex incorporated as co-photosensitizer. The immobilized cells degraded 100 mg phenol l(-1) in continuous illumination with a wavelength band of 580-720 nm to phenol, catechol, and hydroquinone. The efficiency of phenol degradation was 0.08 mg phenol l(-1) h(-1), in the dark and 0.17 mg phenol l(-1) h(-1) in continuous illumination. These results indicate that the photodegradation of phenol was sufficiently efficient for water treatment with the PPF films.

Introducing Hoverfly - zdw ===== dublinben Some of the design issues you are going to run into in web browsers on mobile devices might be worth mentioning. Is there really no way to reload an app on a page in iOS? Or to run a custom animation? ~~~ jameshart Erm, I think you're mistaken - a hz() animation will be fetched back from server and run in response to the request. Surely you'd rather your animation didn't refresh every second when someone taps on your site? ~~~ dublinben I think a delay after each tap would probably be a reasonable compromise. ~~~ dublinben And to answer my own question, there is a setting for that in iOS 5. ----- johnbender I understand the concept behind this, but one of the first things I noticed is that the name

"hoverfly" seems a little misleading since it does not actually fly. ~ ~ ~
