This tech, which is first and foremost meant to speed up gameplay, make it more realistic and make it fun to play, has some other benefits as well - it is also helping the goalkeepers on the game. Since the players wear the same VR headset, it is an incredibly fun experience to play on your own against an AI opponent with your two eyes at once. And at the same time, you get to go through the motions of facing a live goalkeeper while flying high and full of adrenaline, just like you would if you were a real goalkeeper. And what's so special about this is that goalkeepers are trained to run and jump and duck in accordance with the movements and speed and direction that the players are making. Our goalkeepers have a lot of challenges to deal with in real life as well, and they have to rise to the occasion every single time. This requires training, practice, dedication and attention to detail. In game, the goalkeepers don't have that luxury. The players move at such a high speed that the goalkeeper takes too long to react in certain situations. The Virtual Reality solution is very exciting and provides a new type of training experience for goalkeepers. It provides the opportunity to simulate virtually all the movement of the game and make the experiences more engaging. So the players can run at high speeds and make you work on reacting to their movement at the same time, this technology also helps the goalkeeper. How? When you watch a goalkeeper in action, there is a time when the goalkeeper is diving to stop the ball. It's a lot of pressure for them. In FIFA, you can make the goalkeeper dive to your level and make it a little easier for him. But this is only in an ideal world, because we don't know how the goalkeeper will respond in reality, because he does not know what the speed of the ball will be. In some situations, you would like to make it as difficult as possible for the goalkeeper. The Virtual Reality solution makes it possible for you to simulate these pressures and make the goalkeeper practice over and over, and over again. He is not only trained, but also skilled. In addition to that, we can also use it in live games to see if the goalkeeper is reacting correctly. We can use this as a training tool to see if he is made of the right stuff. If

What's new in Fifa 22:

- Movement Manager: Drag players to line up in formation, set player patterns, just like being at the match field. Turn on the arrow keys to move your defenders. Use a combination of left and right clicks to dribble or pass the ball.
- New Full-Featured Goalkeeper Interface: Move the slider to make the goalkeeper run, run out if you want. Highlight the timing of each movement to adjust for the speed of the game. Pause the game to view the quarterback drop to set the timing for dive on the ball.
- New Skill Animation and Accuracy: Crouch, sprint, juke, feint, curve, pivot, turn and more, not just cheesy mini-moves.
- Personal Trajectories: Adds a dynamic feel of movement and space to the game. Players can run to space and have more freedom when attacking.
- New defensive system which allows you to follow the direction of any player: On-ball defending allows you to press your marker.
- See in-play club calls from broadcasters: Footage streams with audio from live commentators from around the world, with added commentary to explain player movements, tactics and the flow of the game.
