"It is the oldest dinosaur fossil ever found," said paleontologist Rasmus Troedsson of the University of Cambridge, who led the expedition to Greenland. Researchers found the fossil in August on a remote glacier in the remote regions of northwest Greenland. The tiny fossil is only a few millimetres long but is the partial remains of an ancient sea-dwelling animal that lived about 190 million years ago, according to a study published Monday in Nature. It was the first small, relatively complete fossil of its type ever found, Troedsson said. The tiny animal belonged to a group of animals known as Gastrovirids, which was well-developed in the early part of the Jurassic period when dinosaurs first appeared on Earth. But a second study published in the same journal revealed the new fossil was almost certainly not a dinosaur. Where can I get a fix orÂ .Q: CSS for Media Queries in PhoneGap I have an Android HTML5 application that uses the PhoneGap API, and I would like to support multiple screen resolutions. However, I am not sure what is the best way to properly set the media queries. For example, let's say I want the application to support screens of 1000px wide or greater, and I want everything else to be a larger version of itself. So in my css I would have @media (width: 1000px) { ... } and @media (not(width: 1000px)) { ... }. Am I right in thinking this is the best way to do it? A: You're on the right track, however, this doesn't look like it's going to be working as you expect it to. Please note that the syntax I've put below is not the correct syntax for CSS media queries and that you should be using media queries correctly. @media screen and (min-width: 1000px) @media (orientation: landscape) { // STUFF HERE } @media screen and (max-width: 1000px) @media (orientation: portrait) { // STUFF HERE } In a nutshell
