Here you can find all the IoT tools and platform simatic connect solutions for your PLCs and HMI.1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a writing optical system for projecting an optical image on a memory medium to record and/or reproduce information thereto and/or therefrom, a lens barrel holding the writing optical system therein, and a recording/reproducing device with a lens barrel. 2. Description of the Related Art Conventionally, optical discs, such as a CD (compact disc), a DVD (digital versatile disc), or the like, have been widely used as various kinds of memory media such as a recording medium of data and an audio medium. Such an optical disc is generally termed "optical disc drive" and is an apparatus for recording/reproducing information to/from such an optical disc. Among those, a CD-RW (CD rewritable) and a DVD-RW (DVD rewritable) are those on which a reading unit and a writing unit can be mounted, so that both the reading and writing of information are achieved by a single disc drive. A writing optical system for such a conventional writing optical system for an optical disc has been proposed in, for example
