In 2007 EA SPORTS FIFA was awarded the Sports Game of the Year title at the National Sportswriters & Sportscasters Association (NSSA) Awards and the top sports game of the decade at the 2009 Games 100 awards. FIFA became the first EA SPORTS game to achieve over 5 million units sold in May 2010 and has remained at the top of the sports gaming charts ever since. What’s New in FIFA 22? • GET THE BEST OFF YOUR FORWARDS Can you mix and match FIFA players? You get to pick your squad, but once you have your 13, you can’t remove them. Not only is this a personal choice, it also helps deliver a more competitive experience. So if you’ve been running a formation with a defensive 4-4-2, you can keep it. But if you’ve been running a 4-3-3 with your forwards, you can now run a 4-2-3-1, 4-3-1-2 or even a 4-4-2 diamond and keep your full-backs. All four of these formations are supported by FIFA Training Mode, which provides players with the opportunity to perfect each formation in advance of their next game. Watch the improved Dynamic Tactics feature at work • GET THE BEST OFF YOUR MIDFIELDERS In past FIFA games, having a balanced midfield has been a struggle. But now, with FIFA Training Mode, you’ll be able to complete your team from the position of midfielders. • CONTINUE YOUR SPORTING HISTORY Players and fans alike have been asking for the chance to pick and choose their kits and play in their favourite colours for years. With FIFA Training Mode, you can now select your team in retro kits, participate in the iconic retro sub-brand kits that inspired the heritage kits of old, and more. • IMPORT YOUR PLAYER DATA Players are making their way online through service packs, trading cards, web apps and social sites. EA SPORTS FIFA 22 gives you the ability to import your FIFA 17 player data directly into FIFA 22. • DON🔗
