Q: How to get the Red Hat Git repository key file? I have Red Hat Enterprise Linux 6.3 and I would like to clone the Git repository from kernel.org. Unfortunately the default image (kernel-2.6.9.git.6.2-7) uses the key-file method. [root@server /]# git clone Cloning into 'linux-2.6'... == Cloning into 'linux-2.6'... error: openssl: SSL_write returned -1 fatal: The remote end hung up unexpectedly How do I get the key file? The old repository gave me an "invalid" message, but the new one doesn't give any error. [root@server /]# git clone [root@server /]# A: Note that the git server is all over twitter, web based, and giving out the keyfiles to repositories and users: Q: How can I create all-new object instances while extending an existing object? Consider the following two objects: class A{} class B{} I want to create all-new instances of A, B and C from a given collection of objects of type A|B|C. I can write the following: var a = a[0]; var b = b[0]; var c = new C(a,b); However, I have an immutable collection of objects so I don't know how to create all-new instances of A|B|C. I suppose it can be done via reflection, e.g.: [4 instances of class "A" created] [2 instances of class "B" created] [1 instances of class "C" created] var a = a[0]; var b = b[0]; var c = new C(a,b);
