It is difficult to say whether decreased CDK2 activity in these cells is a cause or a consequence of impaired regulation. In any case, our observation that cyclin A and B1 protein levels were lower in the T24 bladder cancer cells after the siRNA knockdown of CDK2 suggests that the CDK2 activity is essential for the maintenance of these cyclins. Our findings are in agreement with previous reports showing that the expression of cyclin A1 and B1 is regulated at the transcriptional level by pRb and E2F ([@B28], [
