In “Knockout” mode, all 22 suits come together to form an immersive VR experience, bringing the sights, sounds, smells, physical interactions, and emotions of a high-intensity, complete game to players. The FIFA 22 virtual reality demo features the Czech Republic vs. Saudi Arabia, including the Ballon d’Or trophy presentation, as well as a visit to the retail-only pack downloadable content; including the Club World Cup “Story Mode” costume item. Developed by renowned UK-based game studio EA Canada, FIFA 22 will be available on PS4, Xbox One and PC on August 30th, 2017. Assets on this page will be added to FIFA 14 in the final update on September 20th. Here's a video of the training session I had with the team.Q: I'm having difficulty creating a generic type from an array of objects So I have a class: public class EwVehicle { private string id { get; set; } private string name { get; set; } private string category { get; set; } private string description { get; set; } private string wheels { get; set; } private string owner { get; set; } public EwVehicle(string id, string name, string category, string description, string wheels, string owner) { this.id = id; this.name = name; this.category = category; this.description = description; this.wheels = wheels; this.owner = owner; } public string Id { get { return id; } } public string Name { get { return name; } } public string Category { get { return category; } } public string

Fifa 22 Features Key:

- Play with new real-world player controls — Show your skills the best way, with the most sophisticated and complete rules engine in the franchise. With authentic skill moves that look and feel just like real football, a beautiful new graphics engine, and advanced and just-right gameplay challenges.
 - New Step Over: “Controls” your defender at all times — When the ball is in the air and is about to hit your opponent, hold the right stick forward to step over and avoid contact from your opponent.
 - Offside – Every player is one touch away from scoring – Remember to adjust your man marking settings and line-up accordingly so that you can focus on the game.
 - Defensive Pressure – Three defenders can pressurize the ball, forcing a player closer to the ball carrier for that short burst of extra time.
 - More decision-making pressure – Take more of a negative approach when defending. Also, look out for players that you’re following and drag them towards the opponent.
 - More smart behaviour – Notification system that lets you know when a teammate is about to do something cool, does something interesting or makes a big chance for you to take a goal.
 - Get to know your full squad by scouting for and tracking new signings that you think you may need for your starting 11. Moreover, study fresh player bios, check out stats and try to plan your next transfers.
 - New coach controls – Become more precise when sending your players into the match with the new Controls button. Add more players to your squad by speaking to the squad trainer and you’ll then be given a host of options to view or even take possession of the players in your training set.
 - Pass-the-Ball – Kick off the first new dribbling and passing game mechanic in FIFA. Look for shortcuts to help unlock more dribbling moves, while the ball will be captured on more successful passes to send your players into more of an attacking mode, to score more goals and improve your player rating.
 - Full of touch challenges – New controls let you catch a pass with your knees without penalizing you. Plus, the new “Defending” receiver button will automatically pick up the loose ball in defence and hit a return pass.
 - Clean-cut dribbling – I’ll be keeping my eyes on the ball
